Shelley M. Jackson serves as Krieg DeVault's Labor and Employment Practice Chair. Her practice includes employment law, professional license defense, and data privacy and security, with a health care industry focus.

Clients appreciate Shelley's calm demeanor, thoughtful analysis, and substantial expertise. She draws on a wealth of professional experience, including her time as an assistant general counsel and chief privacy officer with a multi-national corporation.

Shelley frequently handles regulatory compliance and enforcement matters before administrative bodies, including the Indiana Professional Licensing Agency, U.S. Equal Opportunity Commission, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, and U.S. Department of Labor. She is also a seasoned litigator, with more than a decade of trial and appellate court experience.

Outside the firm, Shelley serves as an advisory board member with Reveal Risk, on the board of directors with The Milk Bank, on the Civic Education Committee with the Indiana Bar Foundation, and as a member of IU McKinney School of Law's Black Alumni Council. She also writes and speaks on a wide range of topics.

We encourage you to review our Client Service Standards demonstrating our commitment to excellence. Contact Shelley to explore how our firm can partner with you in providing thoughtful, creative solutions to your legal issues.
